Personality

Background

Tara was born in Bloomington, Indiana. Her mother was a high school music teacher, which resulted in music being a huge part of Tara's life. She grew up playing guitar and singing and when she turned 18 attended Berklee College of Music. In her spare time, when she isn't making music, Tara loves to attend concerts in the park with her friends, and read. She is typically extroverted, but when she needs alone time, she loves to either curl up with a crime fiction novel or watch horror films.
